Slow and sure is a motto with the Chinese, but as they have satisfied themselves of the utility of the railway it will be gradually adopted in all parts of the country. The impediments to its extension will arise not so much from popular disapproval, nor from want of capital, as from the mutual distrust of the Chinese, especially the distrust of official control. ON OF THE HONGKONG FIRE THE BRIGADE.

The amunit piculo, given to the members of the Volunteer Fire Brigade was held yesterday. The Pilot Fish left Pedder's Wharf about eleven o'clock for Junk Bay, which was reached soon after noon. The party then engaged in various amusements and athletic sports, and with appetites sharpened by the exercise and fresh air sat down about half-past one to tiffin. Mr. John Macgregor presided, and was supported at the head of the table by the Hon. P. Ryrie, Hon. H. E. Wodehouse, Mr. The 58th Regiment will embark at 6.30 this Macgregor proposed the health of the memdered in the past, the frequent calls made shown by the lamentable fatal a eident to Fireman Fox and the regrettable injury sustained by Foreman Ross. With the toast he coupled speeches, the latter goutleman suggesting the Hon. H. E. Wodehouse, as an ex Superintendent, should also respond. Mr. Wodehouse having complied with the suggestion, the Chairman gave another toust, which was enthusiastically received, namely, the heatlh of Mr. Jackson, alluding to the eminent services | the officers, non-commissioned officers, and men that gentleman had rendered to the Colony and of the Second Battalion Northamptonshire Rehim so much to the community. The Standard of November 27th says :- Si weeks ago, a contemporary, which is the recognised organ of the British Medical Association: published two facsimiles of the late Emperor's handwriting. As mere specimens of caligraphy which they were naively given out for, they were quite without interest in any professional way: but one of the two had a very great in terest for those concerned in the controversy. on account of what the handwriting said. It was written only a day or two before his death. Its chief interest, however, lies in the expression which is given to the view which the Emperor entertained of the incident referred to: but it is, of course, always understood that ϵ patient's view of such circumstances is often for rom being the correct one, and such subjective mpressions have only a psychological value." The memorialists re gard the publication of the "script" as a violation of professional confidence, and its appear ance in the journal of the Association as discreditable to the medical profession of this country. They accordingly request that such mmediate action be taken as may be required to clear the Association of which they are members, and the profession at large, of the discredit therein attaching to them. If there be a breach of confidence. it was evidently on Sir Morell's part in giving the sense, and the publication of the autograph under these circumstances resolves itself into one of good taste, respecting which we can only say de quetibus non est disputandum. The loss of Sir William Jenner as a member of the Association is doubt less to be deplored, especially as his resignation of membership will not improbably be followed by that of others. Springer and Herbert, broke out ever, and did not cause the clerk to halt in his reading. Where the message touched on the dismissal of Minister Sackville, and said it was necessary to the dignity of this government to have a new personal channel of communication with Great Britain, the House broke into derisive laughter which was renewed when the derk read the passages saving that the Britisl Minister's offence took place at the crisis of the presidential election, and again where he read the reference to Minister Sackville as "the per-

LONDON, 4th December. This morning's Post, commenting on Presilent Cleveland's message to the American Conresa, says if the Americans are really inclined co resume negotiations with a view to a settlement of the Canadian fisheries question they will find the English ministers willing to meet them. The Daily News says: - "We would regret President Cleveland's acrimony with reference to the Sackville incident much more if it were not for the fact that Lord Salisbury set the example. Mr. Cleveland ovidently possesses Lord Saliabury's bitterness of tonyue, but otherwise his message is a great document"

Advice had been sent to the Egyptian Government to maintain a purely defensive policy with as small a force as passible, devoting the rest to internal developments. He urged mutual combination with colonies for Imperial defence. No fiscal arrangement could be forced upon the colonies. Regarding Iroland he contended that it would be dangerous to grant more than provincial chambers. The experience of Quebec showed that if a province was made too strong, it could squeeze money out of the central treasury beyond what was just generally. He hoped that ablest servants of the Crown, as the Governor of Queensland, would settle the dispute. He had reason to know that Cauada had not followed the Office to accode to the demand for a colonial voice in the selection of governors. TOST-OFFICE. ACTIONS.

For the convenience of the public a Peak delivery has been established. Letter boxes have been placed in the tram cars and correspondence will be delivered by the twelve and four o'clock cars only. Local rates will be charged. Correspondence addressed to the Peak may be posted in the General Post Office up to 11.30 a.m. and 3.30 p.m., or in the Letter Boxes in the cars till time of departure. Correspondence from the Peak may be posted in the Letter Boxes up to twelve and four o'clock. Parcels for the Peak may be posted in the General Post Office only up to 11.30 a.m. and 3.30 p.m. There will be no Sunday delivery. Covers containing bank notes, jewellery. &c. should not be posted. To avoid robbery senders of letters are requested to cancel their 'stamps by writing the word 'stamped' across

When Correspondence has been mis-sent or delayed (both of which are liable to happen occasionally) all that the addresses need do is to note on the cover. Sent to —— or Received at 7 p.m., or as the case may be, and forward it, without any other writing whatever, to the Postmaster-General. This should be acted on the first time cause of complaint occurs; it is a mistake to let such matters pass for fear of more trouble in the end. The Postal Guide for 1888, revised to date. will be found in the Daily Press Directory. p. 389 large edition, p. 733 small edition. This is the only authorised complete Summary of Postal information published in Hongkong.

PNGLISH AND CHINESE DICTIONARY. WITH THE PUNTI AND MANDABIN PRODUNCIATION. An Anglo-Chinese Dictionary, published at Daily Press Office, Hongkong.

For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relationship imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size | Trade, objects of Natural History, Furniture. of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of &c., &c., with the Punti and Mandarin Pronunspace, achieving a clearness not previously ciation. attained, and dispensing with those vast margins

To illustrate the vast scope of the work the following facts are submitted for consideration :-Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000 Published at the Office of the Hongkong Daily Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various appli- THE LATEST TELEGRAMS cations and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning.
